Windows Vista Operating System

1. Identify the printer you want to print to.	One Main Building (S800 Lab) \\prometheus\Wlab3 \\prometheus\Waclcolor Commerce Street Building (C300) \\prometheus\cometdell1 \\prometheus\cometdellcolor Shea Street Building (B200) \\prometheus\commons1 \\prometheus\commons2
2. Click on the start button, and enter the printer path name (example: \\prometheus\commons2) in the “Search Box.”	 The screenshot shows the Windows Vista Start menu and search box. A red arrow points to the search box. The search box contains the text "Start Search". Below the search box, there are three numbered callouts: 1. Start menu, 2. Search box, and 3. Start button. A legend below the callouts reads "Start button and Start menu".
3. The printer connection dialogue box will open. Enter academic\username (substitute your user name) in the username field and your password in the password field. Then click OK. Note that you only need to connect to the printer one time during each wireless session.	 The screenshot shows the "Connect to prometheus" dialog box. It has a title bar with "Connect to prometheus" and a close button. Below the title bar is a blue header with a key icon and the text "Connecting to prometheus:". There are two input fields: "User name:" with a dropdown menu showing "academic\username" and "Password:" with a masked password field. There is a checkbox labeled "Remember my password" which is unchecked. At the bottom are "OK" and "Cancel" buttons.
