

PSYCHOLOGY

Bachelor of Science in Psychology

The study of psychology aims to improve your understanding of self and of others, as well as the biological and physiological substance underlying human and animal behavior and mental processes. Students will study the relationships between brain function and behavior, and environment and behavior.

About the Program

The Bachelor of Science in Psychology at UHD is a 120-credit-hour program in which you will master skills in research, project development, analysis, and presentation of findings. You will demonstrate an understanding of the major concepts, discoveries, and historical trends in psychology.

Program courses cover several subject areas, including: Human Growth and Development, Childhood and Adolescence, Clinical Studies, Cognition—Learning & Behavior, Sensation and Perception, Statistics and Research Methods, Memory, and Abnormal Psychology.

Though not mandatory, students have the option of choosing a minor (minimum of 18 hours), such as: Ethnic Studies, Biology, and Criminal Justice, to help further specialize their program degree plan.

Our psychology program provides an education, which offers students the flexibility and growth potential that employers find valuable. Beyond clinical applications, there are diverse opportunities for graduates to apply a psychology degree, including the following industries:

- Counseling Services
- Community Relations
- Market Research
- Education
- Human Resources
- Business Management
