

WELCOME

The Center for Plain English Research and Study at UHD is pleased to welcome practitioners and educators in the Houston area to the Fourth Forum on Plain English at the University of Houston-Downtown.

The forum aims to promote informed uses of Plain Language guidelines, which are writing standards recommended by several government agencies for improved communication with the general public.

Our one-day forum will address the following topics:

- Definitions of plain language
- Plain language organizations and resources
- The Grand ClearMark and WriteMark awards programs
- Plain language strategies that work in real documents
- Stages in rewriting documents in plain language
- Testing documents for clarity and effectiveness

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Susan Kleimann, Ph.D., is President of Kleimann Communication Group, Inc., a woman-owned small business that provides plain language training and helps organizations create clear, consumer-focused information. Dr. Kleimann has over 35 years of experience creating information that real people can understand and use. Since founding her company in 1997, Dr. Kleimann has become an international expert on user-centered design, plain language, and disclosure development for complex regulations and rules. She frequently directs large-scale contracts with government agencies such as the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB), and Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), creating documents that touch millions of people every day.

Barbra Kingsley, Ph.D. is a Partner with the Kleimann Communication Group in Washington, DC. Dr. Kingsley has 18 years of experience as an award-winning information designer. She has developed plain language documents for numerous government agencies including the Department of Health and Human Services, the Internal Revenue Service, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, and the Veteran's Benefits Administration, among others. Her work has won awards from the Society for Technical Communication, the Center for Plain Language, and the National Association of Government Communicators.
