College of Public Service
Department of Urban Education

Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) in Curriculum and Instruction with an area of expertise in English Language Arts and Reading

The Master of Teaching (MAT) degree in Curriculum and Instruction with an area of expertise in English Language Arts and Reading prepares program graduates for literacy teaching and leadership positions in a variety of educational settings. Program graduates teach English Language Arts, reading, and reading intervention in EC-12 schools. At the college/university level, program graduates teach developmental reading and writing or serve as adjunct professors for literacy education courses. Additionally, the program prepares graduates to assume educational leadership and teacher training roles in a variety of educational settings.

Master Reading Teacher Certificate (pending approval from TEA): Completing READ 5313, READ 5315, READ 5317, READ 5321, MAT 6310, READ 6370, and READ 6380 (which includes a 160 clock-hours of field-based practicum) leads to eligibility to test for the Texas Education Agency Master Reading Teacher Certificate. A Master Reading Teacher's primary duties are to teach reading and to serve as a mentor in the field of reading instruction to other teachers.

(Note: This certificate requires candidates to have a valid teaching certificate and at least three years of verifiable experience as a classroom teacher.)

Reading Specialist Certificate (pending approval from TEA): Completing the entire Master of Arts in English Language Arts and Reading degree (36 credit-hours), which includes 160 clock-hours of field-based practicum, leads to eligibility to test for the Texas Education Agency Reading Specialist Certificate. Reading Specialists teach in regular or special classrooms and clinics (EC-12), or they facilitate regular and special literacy development programs.

(Note: This certificate requires candidates to have a valid teaching certificate and at least two years of verifiable experience as a classroom teacher.)

Note: The courses in this degree plan are taught using a hybrid of face-to-face and online instruction.
