Section I.c Enrollment

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled.

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Section II Assurances

Please certify that your institution is in compliance with the following assurances.

(§205(a)(1)(A)(iii), §206(b)) Note: Be prepared to provide documentation and evidence for your responses, when requested, to support the following assurances.

Preparation responds to the identified needs of the local educational agencies or States where the program completers are likely to teach, based on past hiring and recruitment trends.

Yes

Preparation is closely linked with the needs of schools and the instructional decisions new teachers face in the classroom.

Yes

Prospective special education teachers are prepared in core academic subjects and to instruct in core academic subjects.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students with disabilities.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to limited English proficient students.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students from low-income families.

Yes

Prospective teachers are prepared to effectively teach in urban and rural schools, as applicable.

Yes

Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

The CPDT (Center for the Professional Development of Teachers) Advisory Board was instrumental in providing input in the planning process leading to the initiatives in current programs. CPDT members have provided key input in terms of school availability for student placement - which directly impacts program design. Furthermore, ongoing feedback concerning district needs and possible field based experience cycles have also played an important role in helping us to refine and advance our program. In the field based courses effective strategies for English language learners are infused throughout the courses and addressed in the texts. Students in field based experiences consult with their mentor teachers on effective strategies and activities to teach English Language Learners. English Language Proficiency Standards (ELPS) is specifically addressed in course discussions of Pedagogy and Professional Responsibilities (PPR) Competency 2 (the teacher understands student diversity and kno

Students in all programs take a course in Educational Technology. This course addresses the concepts in PPR Competency 9: The teacher incorporates the effective use of technology to plan, organize, deliver and evaluate instruction for all students. Technology is integrated throughout the program at every level. For example, course assignments in the program include the use of a variety of software: PowerPoint, Photo Story, Moviemaker, Excel, Audacity, Publisher, and other web-based software to create presentations and curriculum materials. In addition, all students are required to: 1) communicate by email, 2) use Blackboard Learn in their coursework, and 3) complete assignments using Microsoft Office Professional and other appropriate software. Technology is used by instructors to create and share course information with students, maintain communication, and model effective technology use. In addition, teacher candidates in all programs take SOSE 3320, Assessment and Evaluat

Section VII Contextual Information

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card. The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

The mission of University of Houston-Downtown's Department of Urban Education teacher preparation program is to address the needs of economically, linguistically, and culturally diverse pre-service teachers and learners. The program consists of four components that provide a strong foundation for the professional development of urban teachers (see Preparation Programs). Preparation Programs: Components: (1) Multicultural Curriculum: Before students are admitted to the program, they must take a prerequisite course entitled Culture of the Urban School. Once accepted into the program, students must take a minimum of 6 hours of multicultural courses. (2) Professional Development: Three 9 hour blocks of content designed to develop an understanding of the needs of individual learners. (3) Field-Based Instruction (three semesters): Students work with mentor teachers in urban schools. (4) Monitoring Student Success: Professional faculty supervise students who are placed in mentor teacher cl
