Minutes
Minutes of the March 6, 2018 Senate meeting were unanimously approved as written.

Announcements
Hale announced that external speakers not subject to HB89 rules about boycotting Israel, although supply vendors are subject to the legislation. Baker asked if artists are considered the same as speakers. Hale will investigate and get an answer.

Wang explained that the elections run by the Committee on Credentials and Elections (CCE) had to be restructured due to a series of technical difficulties with Qualtrics. He and the CEC are working with IT and Qualtrics to investigate and fix the problems. Then the ballots will be reissued.

Presentations
Study Abroad—Huskin, from the UHD Study Abroad office, provided an overview of the services the Study Abroad office provides to UHD students and faculty. She noted that 85-90% of UHD students who do a study abroad program participate in a program led by UHD faculty, and most of the students are seniors. She also discussed the planning cycle and stressed the need for advance planning—starting the process 12-18 months in advance of the study abroad travel. See attached.
Food Court—Bradley announced that last summer Chartwells was awarded the food service contract at UHD (and UHS), and that ongoing branded national vendor contracts required mandatory “refreshing” of the look at Starbucks and Chick-Fil-A over the summer. David Riddle of Chartwells explained those actions specifically, most of which had to do with updating the look of the venue space, although some additional food options are also part of the refresh—some hot food will be available at Starbucks and Chick-Fil-A will offer breakfast. Local concepts include redesigning the salad bar to make it self-serve and adding more soup options. Other short-term solutions for increased food options include: Commerce Building will have a self-serve/grab and go Smart Market with packaged items; Shea’s C-Store will sell limited hot foods (hot dogs and pizza) with food trucks on Tuesday and Thursday evenings; and the new Science & Technology building will have a local coffee concept.

Murray asked about healthy food options, specifically vegetarian options at UHD. Riddle identified several “healthy” choices such as sushi and grilled chicken, and existing vegetarian options including sushi and salad bar. He said more vegetarian options, such as mushroom quesadillas, could be added if they are wanted. Sadana asked about the summer closures given the number of summer programs UHD hosts, and TeDuits asked why Chick-Fil-A was renewed given its stance on social justice issues. Johnson asked about price increases related to these updates. Riddle said that prices at the UHD food court will not be higher than they are “on the street,” or outside UHD.

Roster Certification—LeGrande reviewed the purpose and intent for roster certification done by faculty. Originally, in 2013, the certification was done to comply with Federal financial aid regulation (Federal Regulation 34-668.21(b) with data captured at two points: 10 days into the semester and at the end of the semester when grades of F, W, or I were given. LeGrande acknowledged that after five years, there is some evolution in the process and that further work may need to be done to clarify the purpose of the data collection and the intent of the administrative drop, and to create appropriate policies. Attached is LeGrande’s presentation.

Old Business
Promotion Raise increases are on the recommendation list for the Planning and Budget Development Committee’s priority list. President Muñoz proposed increasing the promotion raises to $6,000 for associate professors and $10,000 for professors, starting with the next budget cycle. Faculty were generally supportive of the increases, but expressed concerns that without adjusting existing salaries in those ranks, a greater compression will result, and inequities.

Regarding the “3-2-0” load for first-year tenure-track faculty, Hale said he was waiting for more data from Carol Tucker.

Correction—Ashe offered a factual correction to the minutes of February 20, 2018. At the February 20 meeting, under “Announcements,” Hale reported that “TCFS had compiled a database of faculty senates nationwide with the goal to establish a national faculty senate organization,” when that compilation had actually been done by Darlene Hodge, UHD’s Faculty Senate Administrative Assistant. An erratum notice will be appended to those minutes.
New Business

Provost Search Committee: Hale said a number of faculty have raised concerns about the number of faculty on the search committee for a new provost. Traditionally, faculty have comprised more than half of the voting members on such search committees. At present, there are only five faculty on the twelve-member committee. All colleges should have a faculty representative on the committee, and the committee should have a separate representative from Senate/Senate leadership in addition to the Faculty Senate president/president-elect. It is also the custom to consult with FSEC regarding the faculty appointments. For instance, there is not a CPS faculty representative and Dr. Wang seems to be holding three roles: CPS representative, Senate/Senate leadership, and Senate president-elect.

Several senators asked that Hale share the 2008 UFEC Resolution on Searches that was ratified by all faculty senates in the UH System. See attached. Several senators were concerned that President Muñoz wanted to wait until the May 1 Senate meeting to discuss this issue. Ashe and Sullivan urged quick action to resolve this issue before the committee work progresses. Sadana said the committee has already met once. Senators suggested that Hale invite Muñoz to the next FSEC meeting. Hale said he would do so.

The Faculty Awards Ceremony will be held instead of the next Senate meeting, on April 17. Please encourage your department faculty to attend.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:55 pm.

The next Senate meeting is on May 1, 2018.

CLASS ATTENDANCE & ADMINISTRATIVE DROP

Class Attendance (Roster Certification)

• Implemented in 2013 to comply with Electronic code of Federal Regulation 34-668.21(b) states:
  • “If a student never begins attending classes, you must return disbursed funds to the respective federal aid program.

• If the student begins attending some but not all of his or her classes you must recalculate the student’s federal aid based on the student’s actual enrollment status.”

• This implemented in two ways:
  • Capture data during the first 10 days of class
  • Capture data during the final grading period for students who earn a grade of “F” or “I”

Administrative Drop

• This is not a requirement of US Department of Education.

• Implemented at the request of Faculty Senate in 2013.
  • Experienced 7% enrollment increase in 2012.

• Reports of significant numbers of students who never attended class

• During the implementation of FTIC admissions standards, a desire to ensure clean reporting data to establish the 2019 Cohort (6-Year Graduation Target)

• Implementation was only to drop students who never attended class during the first 10 days.

     • Notification does not detail specific reason for drop (limitation with eServices)

5. Appeal

     • Documentation:

       • Blackboard access (Online and hybrid courses)

6. Registrar’s Review
   • Registrar’s Office reviews the appeal with documentation and determines if the student has provided sufficient documentation to be reinstated.
     • Registrar’s Office sends request to faculty to review the supporting documentation and approval (no designated time-limit to wait for response from faculty).
       New: Faculty has 24-48 hours to reply to the Registrar’s Office to dispute the reinstatement request, failure to do so will result in reinstatement.

ADMINISTRATIVE DROP CHALLENGES

• Original Intent of the Procedure Appears to Be Evolving
  - Original Language
    - For face-to-face classes - the student has not attended class nor made contact with the faculty member to explain the absence by the end of the 10th class day of the semester.
    - For a technology-delivered course - the student has not engaged the course material or made contact with the faculty member to explain the absence by the 10th class day of the semester.

• Current Practices Vary
  - Requests to drop a student that cannot “pass” the course
    - based upon attendance patterns, grades in the class in the first 10-12 days
    - This newer practice seems to be connected to DWF rates and is a separate issue that the original intent of this procedure.

• Online courses
  - Logging into Blackboard is considered engaged
FUTURE DISCUSSION

• Determine future of administrative drop and clarify purpose.

  • Does the institution need to consider policy that will be consistently applied?
