II. Percy invited Julie Norton, Associate Director of Corporate and Foundation Relations. Ms. Norton told the group about as part of the university advancement team, she could introduce new fundraising opportunities to the group. She gave an overview of the staff, including Liza Alonzo, the Director for Alumni Relations, who she hoped would be a point of contact for everyone after graduation. She mentioned that internships with corporate partners exist for UHD, and she encouraged the members to make contact at events and form personal networks. She said that the partnerships should be customized, consistent, and mutually beneficial. For example, if a company offered support, students should offer to put their logo on t-shirts, ask them to serve as speakers or support the events of the company. She asked everyone to remember to represent UHD well when reaching out to corporations, to be professional, give thank you notes and to make sure to offer invitations to events 2-3 weeks in advance and requests for money at least two months in advance. She then went over a handout detailing information about Corporate Relations with Student Organizations and added that organizations should focus on asking for support from organizations that have a similar theme or mission.

a. Estefania Rodriguez asked if there is a list of organizations available.
